We have White and Colored Embroideries in Swiss, Jaconet and Nainsook, in various widths and All Over to match.

Laces.

Spanish Ecru and Egyptian Flouncings, with Nets to match. Oriental Laces in White, Cream and Beige. Linen Laces, Medals and Torchon Laces, machine and hand made.

Velvets.

CITY IN BRIEF.

J. T. Roseberry has not yet received his sentence.

There are six cases of scarlet fever on Willard street.

The art exhibition will be open free, day and evening, until Friday next.

Tom Sullivan, alias Frank Sullivan, has been notified to leave the town by Judge Norton.

Thieves robbed the Bates House cigar stand early yesterday morning of $50 worth of goods.

James Sullivan, arrested Saturday night for selling after hours, was fined $25 and given ten days in jail.

Dr. Moore's horse became frightened at a camel belonging to Doris' show and ran away, smashing a buggy.

There will be a game of polo to-night at the College Avenue Rink between the Halcyon and College Avenue Clubs.

A printer named Crawley had two severe hemorrhages of the lungs Sunday, but was able to be up and around yesterday.

Edward O'Brien, the tramp arrested for felonious assault on a little daughter of L. B. Nelson, has gone over for Grand Jury investigation.

Nellie McCutcheon, and another little girl who escaped from the Sisters of the Good Shepherd, were captured and taken back again last night.

Joe Miller, colored, has complained that Jacob Hun made an attempt on his life, and that Fred Moninger committed an assault and battery upon him.

The Woman's State Fair Association has secured special features for the coming fair, among them being a piano, banjo, cornet and guitar contest for prizes aggregating $50.

The Foster-Bailey Operatic Concert Company, of this city, will give a concert at Danville, Ill., next Tuesday evening. Every seat has been sold in the opera-house for that night.

The claim of John Martin was settled yesterday, the State Auditor issuing a warrant for $55,616.68, which was assigned to the Bank of Commerce, then to the Merchants' National and then to Martin, as a formality.

Representative Smith and Purdue.

Representative Smith, of Tippecanoe, was in the city, yesterday, looking over the laws that affect roads and other matters in which township trustees are particularly interested, and he designs issuing a circular to these officers, noting the changes made by the last Legislature. He is constrained to this course on account of the late date at which the laws will be distributed. In speaking to a Sentinel reporter, yesterday, Mr. Smith appeared to feel that his labors in behalf of Purdue had been overlooked by the President in his speech on the occasion of the reception to Senator Johnson, though the latter eulogized Mr. Smith for the earnestness which characterized his efforts for the University in the House.

President Smart, while in the city, on having his attention called to the matter expressed some surprise and said that he was not one of the originators of the meeting, but that he was merely asked to make a short speech, and feeling grateful to Senator Johnson for his labor in behalf of Purdue, consented to do so. He also said that so far as he was concerned he should be pained if it should be thought that he intentionally slighted the two members of the House from Tippecanoe County, that he felt that it was on that particular occasion the place of Senator Johnson to speak of the services of the two Representatives, which the Senator did in handsome and truthful terms, and that it was his purpose on some proper occasion, which he should seek, to speak himself in fitting terms of the labors of Representatives Smith and Osborne in behalf of Purdue.

Robbed of $200.

Thomas Nolan keeps a little coal yard on Tennessee street near Market and lives in the office connected therewith. Last evening about 7 o'clock a nice looking young man ordered $1 worth of coal for No. 22 Columbia street. Mr. Nolan started out with the coal at once and soon found that there was no such number on Columbia street. He returned to his office and found the room in a disordered condition. A box in which he had placed nearly $200 a few weeks ago had been pulled out from under the bed and investigation proved that the money was missing. Nolan reported his loss to the police, and at last accounts the thief had not been apprehended.

The K. of P. Encampment.

The prizes for the State Encampment of the Uniform Rank K. of P. to be held in June, will cost $1,500. A large number of the State ranks have signified their intention of competing for the State prizes, and several ranks from other States will be present to compete for the free for all prize. A number of prominent business men have contributed to the prizes, and everything points to the most successful meeting which has ever been held. The local ranks are working hard in the matter, and it is expected that the encampment week will prove to be the feature of the year for this city.

Caught at Last.

Jack Lancaster was arrested yesterday by Constable Reinhold, near Cumberland, on an old charge of larceny. The first warrant against him was issued in December, 1882, and another in the same month one year later. He managed to dodge the officers until yesterday, when he was arrested. Late last night the complainant, Caroline Schmitt, who resides near Cumberland, was sent for, and the word is out that there will be a wedding in town this morning. Lancaster being now in jail in default of $500 bonds.

Will Bring Suit.

Walter Newman, who fell over a post the night of March 11, in front of his residence, on South Mississippi street, has arranged to file suit for damages against the city and the owners of the property. He claims his voice is permanently injured. Part of the bones of his face were torn out at the time.

Swallowed a Pin.

The three year old child of George McKinney, living on Helen street, near Kingan's Pork House, swallowed a pin yesterday afternoon and its sufferings necessitated the calling of a physician. While the child's chances for recovery are fair, it may yet die.

An Eye Removed.

Drs. Thompson and Featherston yesterday removed the left eye of Ed Williamson which was burst open by an accident at the Central Elevator three weeks ago.

Of Interest to the Ladies.

As is well known the Eastern kid glove importers have had large stocks of gloves seized for evading payment of custom dues. Recently the Government sold large lots at auction, and H. S. Tucker, the glove man, has secured a big lot. Among them are the well-known brand of Juvin. No such opportunity for purchasing first class French kid gloves at a very low rate has heretofore occurred in the glove trade of this country. Ladies, read his advertisement in another column.

Your Age.

"Your age?" asked the Judge. "Thirty-five, Your Honor," replied the woman. "But you were thirty five the last time you were here, three years ago." She—"And does Your Honor," who were a Ryan flat, "think I'm the woman to say one thing one day and another thing another?"
